CHEAP POSTAGE.—The rapid progress which this great commercial reform is daily making astonishes even the most violent opponents to the new system. France, with a view to its introduction in that country, has despatched one of its principal officers from the Post Office Department to England, to examine into the working of the Penny Postage, and report thereon to the French Minister.

It wo even went so far as to refuse to publish the annesty. His holities has held his first consistory, in which he diverged a speech in Latin, thanking the cardinals for his elevation.

The popular Cardinal Gizzi has been nominated Secretary of State. He entertains the same liberal and enlightened views as the Pope.

The feud between Old and Young Ireland is now regularly consummated. They are distinct parties. Mr. O'Connellhas denounced their policy and disdained their aid. The "Nation" has been expelled from the rooms of Conciliation Hall, and the quarrel stands little chance of ever being cemented again.

Professor Dew of William and Mary College, Virginia, reached Paris a few days ago, and died the day after his arrival. There is something peculiarly melancholy in a man thus traversing the wide Atlantic, only to leave his bones in a foreign land.

Fennimore Cooper's "History of the United States' Navy," has been translated into French, and is now being published. A notice of Emerson and a critique of his works has appeared in one of the Reviews.

The Sugar question, which threatened at one time to knock the new Ministry on the head, has been time to knock the new Ministry on the head, has begin if of with amazing alacrity. On Monday night the House of Lords read for the third time, and passed the Sugar Bill.

The Money Market is easy, and for legitimate business, cash can be had on easy terms. The half-year ty meetings of some of the great Railway companies are being held, and the accounts which the directors give of their position and their prospects, are, upon the whole, favorable.
